NO SHORTAGE IN THE VICEROY ALEXEIEFF TELLS OF THREE BANDITS DIE ON BOARD OF WORKS. THE DISASTER. THE SCAFFOLD.

Secretary Fawcett Declares That His Enemies are Circulating False Stories

This morning at the City Hall there was in circulation another story regarding inharmonious and an alleged shortage in the accounts of Secretary Fawcett of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners and the Board of Public Works, which attracted a great deal of attention. It was claimed that the shortage would reach $460, and that it had been discovered by the city expert. This, however, was found not to be true.

THE CHARGES.

It was known that charges of this kind to a greater or less extent had been made against Mr. Fawcett by Mr. Hammore, who is the stenographer in the same office, and that Mr. Fawcett had been called upon by the board to explain any irregularities which may have been urged against him.

Commissioner McElroy, when assured that no good could be subserved by remaining silent on the subject, admitted to a TRIBUNE reporter to-day that some of Mr. Fawcett's accounts had been under examination, and continuing, said:

THE PERMIT QUESTION.

"Mr. Hammore brought to the attention of the Board of Public Works a certificate granting to Housemover J. Bayles a permit to move a house. This permit represented $10. The permit, however, was never taken out. Yet, as it stood upon the books, it was a charge of $10 for which Mr. Fawcett had to account.

"Some days later Harry H. Henderson, a housemover, asked for a permit to move a house and paid $10 for it. Mr. Fawcett removed the name of Bayles from the permit and substituted the name of Henderson and issued the permit changed in that manner. He did not, however, change the name in the stub. There was but one permit issued and for that only $10 was received. This $10 was properly deposited by Mr. Fawcett. The board was satisfied with Mr. Fawcett's explanation because the money he had received for the certificate had been accounted for.

AN IRREGULARITY.

"With respect to the story that there is a shortage of $460 in Mr. Fawcett's accounts, I will say the board has no knowledge on the subject. For some time the board has been aware that there has been some irregularity in the books with respect to the issuing of permits for house moving, involving a sum of $40 or $50. Our only knowledge on this subject is what we have received from Mr. Fawcett himself.

AN ERROR.

"He tells us that he cannot locate the error. If error there be, nor can he tell us whether the error was made during his time in office or by any of his predecessors. He has made no secret of this matter. He has told Stenographer Hammore about it and both he and that gentleman have looked over the books in vain in the effort to locate the error.

FAWCETT MAKES GOOD.

"Mr. Fawcett himself told the Mayor and myself that he would make good the amount in dispute and has done so, although he has been told by the Mayor and other members that he should not do so unless it could be proved that the inaccuracy was to be charged to himself.

"Mr. Fawcett is not the only man who has been issuing permits in the office. That has also been done by Mr. Hammore, and I understand that there has been some uncertainty as to the manner in which this has been done.

FAWCETT'S PRECAUTION.

"Since this question has arisen, Mr. Fawcett has designed a permit book of his own, which is now in use in the office, which was never there before and which is a perfect check on every permit issued and every dollar received for permit issued. Further than this, he has had printed upon each permit the caution to other attaches of the office, 'Do not issue any permits during my absence.'

"The board is satisfied that there is nothing wrong in the respects mentioned."

AN EXPLANATION.

Secretary Fawcett, when seen today by TRIBUNE reporter and stated: "As far as I know, there have been no charges filed against me. There have been rumors circulated by people who evidently are prompted by selfish motives but I am informed that the board intends to take no notice of them. I do not desire to say any more on the subject."

WHAT TURNER SAYS.

Commissioner Turner was seen by a reporter and stated: "You can quote me as saying that it is not true that there is a shortage in Mr. Fawcett's accounts. There was some fiction between Denton and Fawcett due to a misunderstanding about their respective positions, but that does not exist any longer."

SKIRMISHES ALONG THE YALU.

LIAO YANG, April 22.—Occasional skirmishes with the Japanese along the Yalu river and unimportant tussles with small bands of Chinese bandits alone vary the monotony of the perpetual movements of troops to the seat of war. Military training endlessly goes up and down the line, infantry, cavalry and artillery are passing by daily. The troops which have reached their allotted stations are hard at work preparing to receive the enemy.

Way-side stations have been organized everywhere to give the soldiers on the march hot meals, warm shelter and comfortable beds.

The torrential rains which fell during the first fortnight of April did not affect the movement of troops. A Red Cross hospital has been established here and a flying field detachment has been sent out with pack horses and trained dogs to find wounded men.

The hospital work is under personal supervision of M. Alexandrovsky, formerly Russian commissioner to the St. Louis Exposition. A large temple for the use of the Red Cross Society has been donated free of charge.

The foreign military attaches are at General Kurapatkin's headquarters. Some foreign newspapermen have arrived here from New Chwang.

SERGEANT TO THE RENDEZVOUS AT TOKIO AFTER THENEW RECRUITS FOLLOWING A OUTBREAK OF W. R.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—The text of Viceroy Alexeieff's report to the Emperor concerning the Petropavlovsk disaster and the torpedo-boat engagement which preceded it (an abstract of which was given in the Associated Press dispatches) reads as follows:

"I respectfully report to Your Majesty that on April 11, the whole effective squadron at Port Arthur sailed out six miles to the southward to maneuver and towards evening returned to port. On April 12 a flotilla of eight torpedo boat destroyers went out to inspect the island, having received orders to attack the enemy, should they be encountered in the course of the night.

IN THE DARKNESS.

"Owing to the darkness and a heavy rain three of the destroyers became separated from the flotilla, two of which returned to Port Arthur at dawn. The third, however, the Strashni, having in accordance to the evidence of the seamen, encountered several Japanese destroyers, took them in the darkness for Russian ships, and giving the signal of recognition, joined them at dawn. She was recognized by the enemy and there was a fight at close quarters in which her commander, midshipmen and engineer and most of her crew were killed. Maleiff, her lieutenant, although wounded, continued firing on the enemy.

IN THE FIGHT.

"At dawn on April 13, the cruiser Bayan went out and hurried to the rescue. About sixteen miles from Port Arthur the Bayan saw the destroyer Strashni engaged with four Japanese destroyers. Shortly afterward an explosion occurred and the Strashni sank. Driving off the enemy's destroyers by her fire, the Bayan approached the scene of the fight, lowered her boats and had time to save the remnant of the destroyer's crew. Unfortunately only five men were swimming. Their lives were saved.

"The cruiser was obliged to fight on her starboard side with six Japanese cruisers which came up. Having picked up her boats, the Bayan regained the harbor suffering no damage or loss, although covered with fragments of shells.

TO THE RESCUE.

"The cruiser Diana and five destroyers hastened to her succor and at the same time the other cruisers, the battleships Petropavlovsk and Poltava and some destroyers came out from the roadstead and the other battleships left the harbor. In column formation with the Bayan at the head and the destroyers on the flank, Vice Admiral Makaroff proceeded to the scene of the Strashni's fight, whither some Japanese destroyers and cruisers were approaching. "After a short fusillade at fifty cable lengths, distance 1,000 yards, the ships drew off.

A squadron of nine Japanese battleships appeared at 8:40 a. m. and our ships retired toward Port Arthur. In the roadstead they were joined by the battleships Pobieda, Peresviet and Sevastopol which were coming out through the channel. The squadron was drawn up in the following order: Askold, Bnyan, Diana, Petropavlovsk, Peresviet, Pobieda, Novik, five destroyers and two torpedo-cruisers. They turned toward the left, but when approaching the mouth of the channel the destroyers were signalled to return to the harbor and the cruisers to proceed. Maneuvering with the Petropavlovsk at their head the squadron turned to the east, making toward the enemy on their right.

THE EXPLOSION.

"At 9:45 a. m. an explosion occurred at the right side of the Petropavlovsk; then a second and a violent explosion under her bridge. A thick column of greenish-yellow smoke was seen to rise from the battleship, her mast, funnel, bridge and turret were thrown up and the battleship heeled over on her starboard side. Her poop rose from the water, showing her screw working in the air. The Petropavlovsk was surrounded by flames and in two minutes sank bow first.

SOME ESCAPED.

"Some of her crew escaped. The cruiser Gaydamak, which was a cable length away, lowered boats and succeeded in rescuing Grand Duke Cyril and forty-seven seamen. The destroyers and boats from the Poltava and Askold also picked up some of the Petropavlovsk's crew. Altogether seven officers and seventy-three men were saved. The Poltava, which was following the Petropavlovsk two cable lengths astern, stopped her engines and remained on the scene of the disaster.

MINE EXPLODES.

"At a signal from Rear Admiral Gukhtomsky, the other warships made for the entrance of the harbor, maneuvering towards the Peresviet in line. A mine explosion occurred under the starboard side of the Pobieda. She listed but proceeded and entered the harbor with all the other ships astern of her. The enemy remained in sight until 3 o'clock and then disappeared.

"The night preceding the battle of the squadron, lights and outlines of vessels were seen in the distance from the fleet kept watch in person until dawn from the cruiser Diana, stationed in the outer roadstead. He left her at 4 o'clock in the morning.

MEN READY TO FIGHT.

"In concluding, I take the liberty to announce respectfully, that despite the ill-success which has attended the Pacific fleet, the crews of the ships retain their morale and are ready to perform all duties required of them. The gracious words of Your Majesty addressed to the seamen at their hour of trial serve as a consolation and support to all the force in their efforts to overcome the enemy, to the glory of their beloved sovereign and their country."

MESSAGE TO MOTHER.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22, 4:35 p. m.—Lieutenant Denis, one of the survivors of the Petropavlovsk disaster, in a telegram to his mother, says:

"I was in the ward room when the explosion occurred. There were four explosions in all. The battleship sank in a minute and a half. I escaped without a scratch and am now on shore in charge of the battery at an electric searchlight plant under Lieutenant-General Stoenkel."

Vice-Admiral Skrydloff goes to Sebastopol next week and thence to Port Arthur.

SAY THE STORY IS NOT TRUE.

AMERICANS ARE NOT HELD AS JAPANESE SPIES.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—An Associated Press correspondent called the attention of the Foreign Office to the telegram from the Harbin correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung, published in the United States to the effect that four unarmed American citizens were held as Japanese spies at Mukden, that an American named Rely and a Canadian named Davidson had mysteriously disappeared under such circumstances that they raised suspicion of foul play. The Foreign Office replied that they had no information whatever on the subject, and don't believe that the statement can be true, since any action affecting foreigners would be immediately reported. It is their belief that the statement is unfounded.

Notorious Outlaws Pay the Penalty for Their Bloody Crimes in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Compelled to be carried to the scaffold, Peter Neidermeyer, leader of the car burn bandits, was hanged here today at 10:35 o'clock.

Weak and pale but with a slight suggestion of a smile, the bandit failed to carry out his oft-repeated boast that he would die before reaching the gallows.

The hanging of his associates, Gustav Marx and Harvey Vandine followed quickly.

COULD NOT WALK.

Although it was expected at first that Neidermeyer would be able to walk to the gallows with but little or no assistance, it was found at the last moment he was too weak.

Straps were placed over his ankles and just above his knees.

He was placed on a truck and wheeled to one of the lower floors of the jail after which he was carried to the scaffold and placed in a chair on the trap.

NOOSE PLACED.

He was asked the customary question, if he had anything to say and the noose was quickly placed around his neck. He instinctively put his neck into the noose and the trap was strung.

The body shot through the trap and for twenty minutes after moved convulsively, the physicians at first being of the opinion that he was strangling to death and that the rope had been placed to low. After examination, however, the physicians announced that his neck had been broken.

Neidermeyer appeared on the scaffold wearing a red rose but without a coat.

REMARKS IN ANGER.

Previous to the execution and during the reading of the death warrant, Neidermeyer snatched the paper from the chief deputy's hands and placed it in his pocket and made remarks in anger at this time and once or twice while he was being taken to the scaffold.

DIED BRAVELY.

Shortly after 11 o'clock, Marx was led to the scaffold.

He was neatly dressed and wore a white rose as a boutonniere, given him by his young sister the night before.

He was pale, but his courage never left him while he stood on the scaffold.

He made no statement.

Two priests of the Roman Catholic Church, of which Marx had become a member, accompanied him to the gallows.

He repeated a litany with them and kissed a crucifix, after which the jailer adjusted the noose and sprang the trap at 11:17. He was pronounced dead at 11:34 o'clock, his neck having been broken.

VANDINE COMPOSED.

Harvey Vandine was hanged a short interval after his companion, Marx, a few days before a bitter enemy of Vandine, but now the best of friends in their last hours of life.

Incidents in Vandine's execution were dim to those that characterized the execution of Marx.

Like Marx, Vandine was composed preceding his execution.

With the Catholic priests who accompanied him, Vandine walked unflinchingly to the scaffold attired neatly in black, like Marx, and wearing a white waist coat and a white rose.

Vandine seemed to be even more calm than his companion who went to his death shortly before.

Vandine made no statement of any kind while on the scaffold, but the prayer which he repeated with his spiritual advisers was quite audible.

With Vandine's lips still moving in prayer, the trap was sprung at 11:55. His neck was broken.

NO PRIEST FOR HIM.

Before Neidermeyer was taken to the gallows he was asked if like his companions, he wished to accept the sacraments. He answered that he cared nothing for spiritual advice and wished no priest to follow him to the gallows.

When the drop fell the crowd about Neidermeyer's body fell apart and to the onlookers was revealed for twenty minutes the horrifying struggles of the desperate.

The deaths of Marx and Vandine were unaccompanied by any similar spectacle. A dramatic incident, however, preceded the execution of Marx and Vandine.

When the jailer entered Marx's room to give notice to prepare for the end, Marx said:

"I want to see Harvey."

Vandine was brought from his room a few steps away. When the two men faced each other, Marx said:

"Harvey, I hope to see you soon, and I think we will meet again."

Vandine seemed to be more affected than Marx. He replied:

"I hope so."

Marx said: "I am ready," and went to the scaffold with the priests.

ROPE TESTED.

Preparatory to the third execution the rope was tested with a bag of sand.

It was feared the strands may have become weakened by the strain of the two previous hangings. The rope, however, was found to be satisfactory.

PREPARE FOR THE END.

COUNTY JAIL, CHICAGO, April 22.—With execution so near as to be awaited by minutes, Peter Neidermeyer, Gustav Marx and Harvey Vandine, the car burn

W. G. PALMANTEER FAVORS THE SCHOOL BONDS.

Says the New Schoolhouses Should Be Built of Brick and Stone.

"I am going to vote for the school bonds, and hope they will carry. I am in favor of public improvements, and always have been. I heartily endorse the plans formulated by the Board of Education. They are just what the school department and city need.

"I believe in fine public buildings, particularly school buildings. They are the best advertisement a city can have.

"I believe the schoolhouses should be built of brick and stone. It is poor policy to issue forty-year bonds to build wooden houses that will be worn out before the bonds are finally paid off. We are urgently in need of ample school facilities, and we should lose no time in providing them."

William G. Palmanter, vice-president and manager of the Central Bank, in an interview.

W. G. HENSHAW NOW SEES AWAKENING.

Declares That Oakland People Should Vote for School Bonds.

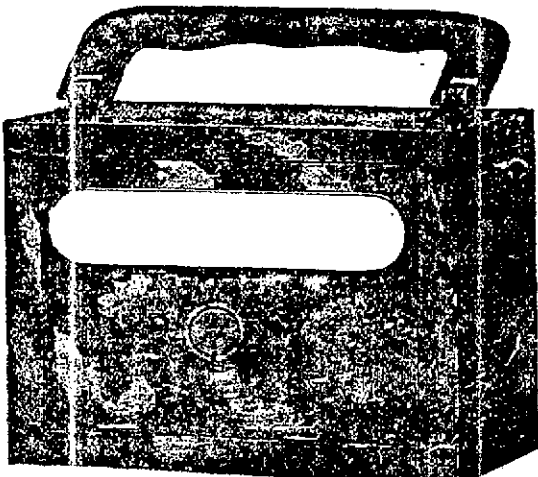

"I certainly favor the school bonds because Oakland is primarily a city of homes and our school accommodations are so inadequate and obsolete that we cannot offer proper inducements to people who desire to live here and educate their children. Some of the older schoolhouses are ancient wood structures that would disgrace a city half the size of Oakland. For the first time in many years I see signs of an awakening in Oakland of the enterprise and public spirit that has adorned, beautified, built up and made Los Angeles the show place of California. There was a time when Oakland was celebrated for its fine, clean streets, its beautiful homes and for its attractive surroundings. It had a fame far and wide as the loveliest city in California; but we have neglected our opportunities. We have not kept pace with the times. We have not improved as we should have done. We quit where we were fifteen years ago, and today Oakland is not as attractive as a residential city as it was twenty years ago. Los Angeles has spent many millions in parks, drives, public buildings and other municipal betterments, while we have spent nothing. Our schools, once the finest in the State, are falling behind. If the bonds are voted tomorrow it will testify that Oakland has decided to move forward and once more have an educational department worthy of a city of churches, schools and homes."

—William G. Henshaw, president of the Union Savings Bank, in an interview.

UNIVERSITY TEAMS MAY GO TO CHICAGO.

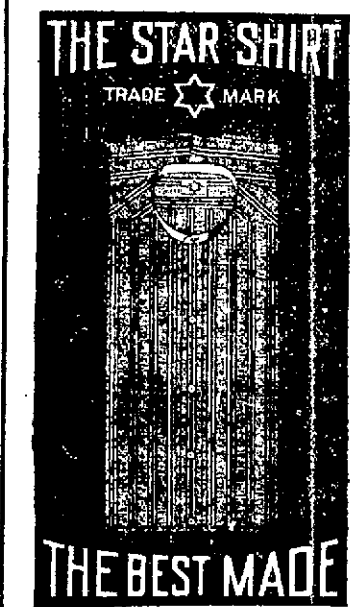

Committee Will Decide Regarding Proposed Intercollegiate Championship Field Day on Marshall Field.

BERKELEY, April 22.—Tomorrow evening the "big race" committee will meet in Chicago to decide whether the track team from a state university and Stanford University shall be invited to go to Chicago to compete in the games for the Western intercollegiate championship, which will be held on Marshall Field on June 4.

in the games for the Western intercollegiate championship, which will be held on Marshall Field on June 4. The attention of the committee was attracted to the excellent showing made in the intercollegiate meet last Saturday.

While it is hardly likely that either California or Stanford will accept the invitation, it is nevertheless gratifying for the two universities to know that they are appreciated. The expense of keeping up training and making the trip to Chicago would be too great for either of the universities to stand.

The rule will have Newhall, who finished only three yards behind Lohman, getting third place, and it will also have Lohman, in the half-mile California loses Clifford, but Edwards and Misher, who pressed Helman so closely, may advance, he back and Helman will be a third good man, so he has it in him to beat both of the other men.

On the other hand, has improved steadily and is expected, if anything, to excel Helman next season. Chaplin and Sperry, provided these other men fail to come up to expectations, will probably be pressed into these races early enough to make the showing of which they are known to be capable.

Captain Cooley's retirement will prove a great loss to California in the high jump. Jockey, the next best man in the blue and gold team, will probably take Cooley's place next year, with Clark, Boynton and Clifford as his team mates.

The broad jump from which the blue and gold was shut out so comprehensively Saturday, will not fail so wretchedly next year, when the jumpers are at home on their own take-off.

Considered the best of California's men, will not return, but Neighbour, Clark, Boynton, Chaplin and Kern will be all in the fight. With the loss of both Cooley and Sperry, California's slim chances in the pole vault are rendered so fine that they will be inevitable. Unless some new material develops, however, in this event will be a blank for Berkeley.

FINAL BASEBALL GAME.

CALIFORNIA AND STANFORD BALLTOSSERS MEET AT IDORA PARK TOMORROW.

BERKELEY, April 22.—Tomorrow afternoon at the new grounds at Idora Park California and Stanford will cross bats for the third and deciding game of the season. Both teams feel fit, both have been working as much as the weather has permitted since the last game two weeks ago, and the game is certain to be a good one, well worth the watching.

Everywhere one hears the question, "What are California's chances?" California has several points in which she is superior to the Cardinals. First and foremost, she has team work that far exceeds her opponent's. The ball works well together and holds good runs. Take the records of the two inlets for the two games played so far. The Blue and Gold have scored 10 runs in 10 innings, while the Cardinals have scored only 12 runs in 12 innings.

Sales will probably pitch for Stanford. They would not dare to put in Tilton and they are sure to get a good out of him. He is a sure thing, but the instances are few and far between in college baseball. On one hand he may be in the best of form, have his legs and arms still with him, but on the other hand he may go up in the air and no field in the world could keep California from scoring.

Helmuth may not do all of the pitching himself tomorrow. He has pitched twice and what has been said about him is that he is a sure thing. Sales might also be applied to him. McCarty has liked the work of another member of the team so well that he will probably put him in the box some time tomorrow. Hamilton, out in the left garden, has been sick for several days and is not yet back. He is a sure thing, but he is not yet back.

This then seems the prospect for tomorrow. California will start with a better trained team containing heavier hitters than the Cardinals. They will go against a team which has been around with a bad ankle, but both players will go into the game and will. This then seems the prospect for tomorrow. California will start with a better trained team containing heavier hitters than the Cardinals. They will go against a team which has been around with a bad ankle, but both players will go into the game and will.

Game will be called at 1:30 o'clock at Idora Park, with Russ Levy holding the indicator.

BERKELEY, April 22.—The girls' basketball teams of Stanford and California will meet for the second time this year tomorrow.

Last month a game was played at Stanford, and California won by the score of 11-4. In the meantime Stanford's team has been strengthened, so an exciting game is expected.

OAKLAND'S BOYS TO FRONT.

CHANNING HALL EXPECTED TO SHOW UP WELL IN FIELD DAY.

C. Hall, of the Oakland High School, has an excellent chance to take first place in the high jump at the big field day of the Pacific Athletic Association, to be held at the Berkeley oval tomorrow afternoon.

In competition this young athlete has cleared the bar 5 feet 1 1/2 inches or half an inch better than the college record. Blakemore of Berkeley High and Paul Magerstadt of Lick will be the Academic League stars to oppose Hall. Standwick of Nevada University and Denison of University of California are also entered. Hall should beat them all according to the records.

ONLY NEGLECT AND INDIFFERENCE CAN DEFEAT THE SCHOOL BONDS TOMORROW. DON'T LET US SAY THAT OAKLANDERS CARE SO LITTLE FOR THEIR SCHOOLS THAT THEY WILL NOT TAKE THE TROUBLE TO VOTE FOR THEM.

MRS. FISKE AT THE MACDONOUGH.

Ancient Jerusalem, the scene of Mrs. Fiske's new play, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," in which she will be seen at the Macdonough Theater tonight, at the time of Roman domination of the Jews, was still a characteristic Jewish city, and the Jewish people, although it showed many signs of Roman domination. Archaeologists differ as to many of the structural and architectural features of the city that time has destroyed, for the Jews were not a race that build for the future, but architecture being more characteristic of other Oriental nations and cities. It was, however, undoubtedly a very picturesque city, and the scene from it in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" is perhaps more picturesque than the greater variety of its people. At Easter even now it presents a strange spectacle from the European eye and costumes seen together. The European tourist, the Turkish woman, the Jewish woman, the long-haired Greek monk, are intermingled with the native people in yellow turbans and striped tunics, with Armenian pilgrims wearing broad red caftans and Oriental turbans or with the far cap and the black-lace veils. And the architecture of the city tells almost the same story, for in it are mingled the Oriental, the Gothic, the Egyptian, the Byzantine and the Italian.

Mrs. Fiske will appear at the matinee tomorrow, her last appearance here, in Isen's "Hedda Gabler," seen here for the first time in English. This is one of the strongest characters in the modern drama and Mrs. Fiske's intense, repressed, unattractive methods are admirably suited to it. It is her second Isen offering, the first having been "A Doll's House," in which, several seasons ago, she first revealed her exceptional talents for serious acting. The story of Hedda, thrilling throughout, needs no student to appreciate its power. Its recent success in New York was a notable success, for which regular theater-goers were responsible. In the past this evening will be, besides Mrs. Fiske, William H. Mack, as Tompkins, Vaughan Glavin, as Lohorn, Henry J. Carroll, as Black, Belle Bonn, as Mrs. Eveden, Mary Madden, as Aunt Julie, and Helen Ormbe, as Bertha.

ROSE COGHAN SUNDAY.
Rose Cogan, in the stellar role in "The Greatest Thing in the World," will appear at the Macdonough Theater on Sunday, matinee and evening. It is good to see that Miss Cogan has departed from the garish, unwholesome and salacious products of the tented city stage to illuminate with her talent, motherly affection and ardent loyalty to the elementary virtues. bandits today, after a practically sleepless night, prepared for the end. At first it was the intention of Sheriff Barrett to hang the trio simultaneously on one scaffold, as the anarchists were executed some years ago. The plan, however, was abandoned, mainly on account of Neldemeyer's attempt at suicide, which had left him in a weakened condition and made it advisable that he should be hanged alone.

A large crowd assembled at the jail preceding the hour of execution and sought admission, but were turned away. Only a limited number, provided by law, were allowed in the jail to witness the execution of the bandits, whose careers—with Emil Roedel, imprisoned for life but a few days ago—were closed at practically the same time.

Neldemeyer continued to reject all spiritual advice and it seemed that he would carry out his idea of dying an atheist. Jailer Whitman said Neldemeyer would be able to walk to the gallows without assistance.

HAD RELIGION.

Marx and Vandine, who had joined the Catholic faith recently, spent their last hours in reading, writing and praying. Several nuns and priests being with them constantly. Marx asserted that he was feeling fine. His sweetheart was the last of his friends permitted to visit him. The men were hanged separately and in the following order.

Neldemeyer first, then Marx and Vandine last.

Attorneys for Vandine were trying to see the governor to obtain a stay of execution for the bandit, the jailer said, and that was why consent was given to hang Vandine last. It was regarded as unlikely, however, that the governor would interfere, as he has already refused clemency.

Dr. McNamara, the jail physician, visited all three of the bandits and said their condition under the circumstances was all that could be expected. The death warrant was read to Neldemeyer, and shortly after 10 o'clock the march to the scaffold began.

HE WAS SULLEN.

Previous to the execution Neldemeyer maintained the same sullen demeanor that has characterized him since he became a prisoner. While the death warrant was being read, he snatched the document from the sheriff and stuck it in his pocket, making a sarcastic reference to his execution. He was carried to one of the floors on a jail truck, then carried down a flight of stairs to the scaffold.

BOWLED BY SAINT ANDREW'S.

FAREWELL TO BACHELORHOOD
SOUVENIR FOR GEORGE S. LACKIE.

There was a pleasant feature at the meeting of St. Andrew's Society last night which will long be remembered among the social events which have made memorable the annals of that organization. It was in harmony with the history of the society, which keeps watch and ward over its members, nothing as it does their returning to and coming back from the "Land of Cakes" and signifying in a manner peculiar to themselves, the daring of one of their number who takes upon himself the responsibilities of a married life.

The business of the regular session was transacted and President George S. Lackie declared the meeting adjourned and started on his way home. When James Hutchinson, one of the members, assumed the chair just vacated and called the brothers to order, with which the members resumed their seats was a surprise only to Mr. Lackie, who was specially requested by the chair to emulate the example of the brothers.

Mr. Lackie had scarcely done so when the chair called on Hugh Hamilton to do some talking, a request with which he complied in a both willing and eloquent manner. When he had concluded Mr. Lackie assumed the chair and in an angle, because the speaker had told how loyal Mr. Lackie had been to St. Andrew's, how grateful to his friends and associates and how starting he had been as a man and brother, none the less so because he was now about to take to wife one of the fairest ladies of the coast. As a humble evidence of their appreciation, Mr. Hamilton begged Mr. Lackie to accept an elegant punch bowl of our glass with a silver ladle, which at that moment was exposed to view.

There were cheers, and then a hush to hear what the recipient of the souvenir might say, but Mr. Lackie could not say much. In fact, he was not expected to say much. The donors well knew that it was one of the occasions when feelings could not be expressed by utterance.

The ladle bore the following inscription: Presented to George Steele Lackie on the occasion of his marriage, by members of St. Andrew's Society, Oakland, California, April 20, 1904.

On the 30th of this month, Mr. Lackie will wed Miss Geraldine Scupham. Palatable libations brewed for the occasion were then poured and song and sentiment, with kind wishes for the "braw lad and bonnie bride," were indulged during an agreeable half hour. The participants being John Collins of Ventura; D. Edward Collins, Robert Howden, John McMillan, J. Taylor, James Hutchinson and others. The making was supervised by Messrs. J. W. Low, A. W. Anderson, James Hutchinson and J. V. Welch, who, with the singing, were in attendance: James Hutchinson, James P. Taylor, D. Edward Collins, John Collins of Ventura, John McMillan, Robert Howden, J. A. Smilie, James Moir, D. Brown, R. Dwyer, James Pattullo, Hugh Hamilton, Wm. Stuart, Hugh George, B. J. Jamieson, J. S. Naismith, V. F. Smith and W. A. Donaldson.

If you want a reliable medicine for liver and kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by Osgood Bros., Druggists, Seventh street and Broadway. KERMIT A GRAND SURPRISE.

COMES HOME AT THIRTY TO ONE WITH MURAT, FAVORITE, AMONG ALSO RANS.

There was but a fair attendance at the track yesterday. Betting was good for the crowd though the guesses did not make good. Most of the short-price horses came home with but one long shot, Kermit, in the first race at 30 to 1.

The start was fair in the first race of six furlongs. Kermit had a lot of speed up the back stretch but Maraschino made a bid and headed him near the turn. Kermit wouldn't stand for the lead and pulled ahead again and won the race in a drive of four with Maraschino the quarters of a length behind. Tanhauser was the same distance in the rear of Maraschino with Jean Gravier fighting for a chance to get in the money. Murat was the strong favorite at 1 to 10 and was played some and was looked upon to do better than fourth. Mogregor had Jones up and though the price was long, 16 to 1, the colt came into second money but on length behind Bill Short. Seeley was a good shape. Gloomy was a better choice but Larsen did not show much anxiety to make the horse win. Rubiana fell into third money four lengths behind Mogregor showing the class of the race. The time made was 1:50.

It was a foregone conclusion that Isabella would take the third race of a mile and seventy yards and, though favorite at 5 to 2, the horse was easily the best in the field, winning by two and a half lengths. Cunejo is improving and readily and quickly, making the fourth consecutive time that the mare has been in the money. Herbert was up and rode a good race and saved ground whenever the chance offered running in close and riding like a jockey. Opomo closed at even money but was five lengths behind. Goldy Plunder the third horse. The advertisement horse, Henry Clay Rye had Fitzgerald up and 60 to 1 to carry and ran ahead of nothing. The start was good but the only part of the race was in the second two horses who had a battle at the wire to get the place. The time was 1:47 1/2.

Virgie d'Or had the favorite's price in the fourth race of one mile and a sixteenth at 16 to 5 and with another jockey than Halbrook up should have done better. As it was the mare ran fifth. Illova had a lot of support but could not get in the money. He did not show that he was entitled to the price of 18 to 5. Ada N. ran a good race and McBride held the mare in readiness taking her into the third quarters of a length ahead of Montana. Peers and outgated the latter. Mountebank was third. The race was won all driving. The time was 1:49.

Redwald poked his nose under the wire ahead of Plunder with Halbrook closely pressing half a length behind. The start was bad and the winner got a bad start but made up ground and just lasted to the wire. In a few more strides Plunder would have won. Otis had a good race and he should have been better. The horse can do better than the third money. Forest King got tired and Ishtar went to sleep. The time was 1:42 1/2.

In a hard drive of five, the limit of the entries in the sixth race of one mile, Divina, took the wire by half a length. Sheehan let the mare into all sorts of pockets and did not seem able to ride. He let the mare run her own race at the finish and with whip the mare won though no credit is due the jockey. Laocoon hung on well and was second. Sheehan worked out his own race which he carried to the post and made third money. Forest King got tired and Ishtar went to sleep. The time was 1:42 1/2.

MURDERER ROSE SHOT DEAD.

KILLED HIS WIFE LAST CHRISTMAS DAY AND MEETS JUST PENALTY.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 22.—Frank Rose, who murdered his wife, or last Christmas day, was shot to death in the yard of the State penitentiary here at 10:19 o'clock this morning. Rose was strapped to the same little wooden chair in which Peter Mortenson met his death a few months ago. Five prison guards, concealed behind a heavy blue curtain in the doorway of the blacksmith shop across the area, formed the executing squad, and the warden held a blank cartridge. Rose went to the death chair with the same coolness that had marked his conduct since he was sentenced to the prison. Death was instantaneous, the four bullets lodging in or very close to his heart.

RUSSIANS AFTER LOANS.
PARIS, April 22.—The European Economic press under the reserve that Russia is negotiating with the principal French banks for a loan of $150,000,000 of five per cent four year treasury bonds to be placed at 98. The statement is not verified and appears based on yesterday's St. Petersburg reports, indicating that the Russian Government might resort to short term loans.

CALIFORNIA TRACK TEAM ELECTS CAPTAIN.

Roy C. Hackley is Chosen, at a Banquet to Be the Successor of Monte Cooley.

BERKELEY, April 22.—At the annual banquet of the track team held last evening, Roy C. Hackley, '05, California's greatest point winner in the last intercollegiate field day, and breather of the intercollegiate record for the two-mile run, was elected to captain next year's track team.
Hackley won the two mile and took second place in the mile at Stanford last Saturday. He made eight points for California, more than any other man on the team. Since his freshman year Hackley has been on the track. He was prevented from entering the intercollegiate meet in his freshman year on account of illness which overtook him on the eve of the meet.
In his sophomore year, Hackley won his big "C," taking second place in the mile run and tying for second place in the two-mile run. The new intercollegiate record for the two mile made by Hackley this year is 10:23 4-5. Hackley is a member of the Winged Helmet Society and the Phi Sigma Delta fraternity.
Notwithstanding the fact that training rules were probably broken last night California has a big entry list for the Pacific Coast Championship Field Day to be held on the campus next Saturday afternoon and several records are expected to fall.

The Duty of the Hour—Vote School Bonds

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 23d—we make it plain, so that there can be no mistake—the progressive spirit of Oakland will be put to the test. We will know after the votes are counted whether we are to have the newer and greater Oakland that we have been talking so much about of late or continue to run along indefinitely in the same old ramshead, happy-go-lucky fashion that has characterized our municipal policy ever since the adoption of the new charter.

Tomorrow the school bonds will be voted for. On their success depend all the plans of municipal improvement now in contemplation. A vote against the school bonds is therefore a vote to retain the present order. It will be a vote against progress, against improvement, against the entire scheme of adorning the city and making it equal to its opportunities and position.

More than that, it will be a vote to deprive children of proper school accommodations. Our school facilities are inadequate. The school buildings are insufficient to provide seating room for nearly 2000 children of school age. Some parts of the city are almost wholly unprovided with school-houses. Children either have to walk a long way or their parents have to pay car fare for them. It is both a physical and financial hardship that is unjustly imposed on certain portions of the community. Some Oakland parents are compelled to send their children to schools outside the city. Many of the rented school rooms are shabby, unsanitary and inadequately equipped. And the condition is growing worse because the population is growing at an unprecedented rate.

Thus the citizens are confronted at once by a duty to the school department and the need of giving aid to the general progressive movement. It will injure the reputation of Oakland as a residence city to have it known that we have not school room for our children, and that people must send their children to private schools or let them go without an education.

These are facts. It is useless to mince matters. We have got to face truth as we must face our duty tomorrow. We have got to decide whether the demand for progress is sincere or only an empty boast. We have got to vote the school bonds or knock the whole improvement proposition on the head. We have got to provide the betterments for the schools or let the schools go from bad to worse. There is no middle ground.

The polling places are at the schoolhouses, and the precincts in which the ballots are to be cast will be a silent but eloquent exhortation to every man to do his duty to his children, to his city, to his country and to posterity. That duty is to cast a vote for learning, for progress, for municipal adornment and the enlightenment of the young.

The honor of the city is at stake. The school population has increased at an enormous rate. Our schools are overcrowded to the danger point. Do your duty and vote for school bonds tomorrow.

Livernash's Bad Blunder

Representative Livernash gave another evidence of his unfitness to sit in Congress when he alone refused to give Representative Bell unanimous consent to bring up his bill to open the Round Valley Reservation to settlement. Mr. Livernash has heretofore given evidence of cranksy egotism of an abnormal quality, and he has exhibited a petty spleen against his party colleague from the Second district unworthy the high place he holds, but it was not expected that he would deliberately set up a bar against the development of California solely to vent a personal spite. This trenches too strongly on public forbearance. Because Mr. Bell, owing to the illness of Mr. McLean, championed on the floor of the House the bill to have a government college built at Mare Island. Mr. Livernash sat silent in his seat and refused to say a word in favor of that project. This attitude was in itself singular for a man claiming to represent the interests of labor, but it was after all only a negative act. His objection to give unanimous consent to a vote being taken on the Round Valley bill was an active piece of malignity for which the State will have to temporarily suffer. It will not hurt Mr. Bell, but it is a serious reflection on the competency of Mr. Livernash to properly represent the greatest commercial constituency on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Livernash is honest and he has fine intellectual gifts, but he lacks balance and is handicapped by such grave infirmities of temper and disposition that he sees things in a distorted light and fails to appreciate the relative importance of public measures. He is an erratic egotist notwithstanding his talents, and is entirely an unsafe man to be intrusted with a commission to represent a great city in Congress.

No wonder Colonel Younghusband is not welcome in Tibet. Polygamy flourishes there.

Do your duty to posterity by voting school bonds tomorrow.

Representative Foss, chairman of the Naval Committee, opposed the construction of a government collier at Mare Island on the ostensible ground that it would cost $1,600,000 to fit the yard up to complete the job. Who told Mr. Foss that? The story is not true, but was circulated by the shipyard lobby in Washington. This lobby is retained to fight all appropriations to fully equip the navy yards for all classes of work. It fought the proposition to have the army transports repaired at the navy yards, and labors to have all warships built and repaired by private contract. In order to accomplish this result it labors to keep the navy yards in a crippled condition so that the government will be at the mercy of private contractors. Chairman Foss appears to be a willing instrument in the hands of this lobby. Under the plea of economy, he is trying to withhold from the navy yards the appropriations necessary to their proper maintenance. The turnaround he received in the collier matter was in the nature of a rebuke to his attitude.

It is now stated that Judge Parker is only worth $30,000. But how much are the trust millionaires who are backing him worth?

A State As a Bad Debt Collector

South Dakota, which has long been famous for its divorce mills, comes forward with a new claim to distinction. She has now taken up the role of a bad debt collector. Under the law, an individual cannot sue a sovereign State, but one State can sue another State. During the reconstruction era the carpet-bag governments in the Southern States issued bonds galore, mainly to subsidize or construct new railroads, which were only partially built or never built at all. It is needless to say that these bond issues were conceived in fraud and mostly went to enrich grafters. After the overthrow of the carpet-bag regime these bonds were repudiated in whole or in part. There are consequently several hundred millions of uncollectible bonds of this class held by speculators. Recently the holders of some of these bonds conceived the idea of getting some State to act for them as a bad debt collector, and a bill was sneaked through the South Dakota Legislature authorizing that State to accept "presents" and to bring suits in the Federal courts against States to recover gifts. The scheme is for the holders of repudiated bonds to present a small portion of them to South Dakota and have that State bring suit and recover judgment, thereby legalizing the entire repudiated issue. The first of these suits has recently been decided against the State of North Carolina, one Simon Schafer having made South Dakota a gift of ten bonds of a repudiated railway series. Judgment was given against North Carolina for $27,500, being the principal and interest of the bonds, and the Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment. This of course gives legal standing to the remainder of the series held by the cunning Mr. Schafer. Collection, however, for him will be a difficult matter, but as he has managed to open the door he may be able to find a way to get in. Leaving this phase of the matter aside, the part South Dakota has played in the scheme is distinctly discreditable. Plainly put, it is undertaking, for a commission, to give legal status to debts that were incurred in fraud and fastened on a people by unprincipled harpies in pursuit of plunder.

Hints for the Ladies.

A gray velveting gown is embroidered with an open-work clover leaf design done in bright red silk. Another velveting gown of a forest green is embroidered in white and shows a fleur-de-lis design.

The seven years' cycle has brought back the old fad for cut-out work. According to all the advance styles and the new materials displayed in the shops, cut-out embroidery is to play an important part in summer things.

The plique bonnets of open-work embroidery all button in the old-fashioned way, so that they can be taken apart when they are laundered. All of these have cut-out bands and borders, with button-holed edges, which add to their effectiveness.

An artistic cushion is of white satin with violets embroidered on it with ribbon violets, well scattered and intended to carry out the illusion. Violet velvet ribbon is tied about the stems in long loops and ends.

Baby hats and bonnets are made of all-over cut-out embroideries, figures and pinnacles. One made of mull is over pale pink silk with a full of the latter underneath edged with Valenciennes lace. A frill of the embroidery falls over this, and a wreath of dainty forget-me-nots finishes the pretty hat.

Sleeve frills are so much worn at present and are going to be worn so much more in the future that a demand has arisen for something quickly and easily handled in this line. The French hand-made ruffles of embroidery or lace edged muslin are delightful. To the woman who has time for dainty needlework they make a useful class of "pick-up sewing."

Cut-out work has also invaded the realm of lingerie. Corset covers and skirts are a network of open embroidery. Colored petticoats for practical wear are of shirt-waist suits, are of chambray and pongee. The former comes in white, blue and pink. The latter is shown only in the natural color and in a bluish gray. Both have deep flounces of cut-out embroidery and nothing daintier has been shown in many seasons.

Lamp, electric light or candle shades are made in delicate China silk, over which there is placed a cover of Brussels net, incriminated with beautiful bits of real lace, flowers, medallions, butterflies, in Venetian, in flut or applique, many kinds being mingled in a geometrical design. On the top edge there is a ruche of Valenciennes and a border of flut edged with little thread tassels completes it. Its greatest charm is that it can be so easily and nicely changed.

Men's smart handkerchiefs once more display at one of the lower angles the exact representation of a wax seal, perfectly imitated with the needle and washing silk, either in blue, red, gray or pink. In the center of this solid stitchery are worked out in white silk small delicate pictures of incriminated monograms, larger and heavier ones of flowers, Richelieu fashion, and entirely embroidered in white silk or luster cotton within a formal square outlined with stem stitch.

Trimming usually associated by the layman with old-fashioned ideas are used upon many of the French gowns which charmingly simple effect. White and black and colored footings are quilted together into headings; baby ribbons are run on lace, which is afterward knitted, and many a quantity of full skirt or flowing sleeve will display the foolish puffings in the same material as long ago. The silk waist are in a large extent cut with lace of mousseline blouse effects under the deep collar, the sleeves of these elaborate and accompanying skirts always are trimmed.

A Parody Anent Mormonism.
I met a little Mormon girl;
She was just eighteen, she said.
Her hair was dressed with one big curl
That dangled from her head.

She had a simple way, and bland;
Her speech was soft and cool.
Anon in her hoarse, widespread hand
She bore a milkmaid's pail.

"How many children, little maid,
Are in your family?"
"How many? Sixty-seven," she said,
And shyly looked at me.

Her hazel eyes to mine she raised,
And then she cast them down, distressed.
"I did not ask," I said, amazed,
"The census of your town."

"How many children 'round your door Disport in childish glee?"
"Just sixty-seven," she said, once more,
And smiled again at me.

"Forty of us at Provo dwell;
At Ogden there are nine.
The good ship Jane, they sail her well Twelve brothers, dear, of mine."

"And at last, Your meaning's clear,"
Said I with laughter merry;
"Is it an orphanage, my dear,
Or a female seminary?"

"My father kind is drawing near,"
The little maid replied;
"He's been to roam; he's bringing home
Another brand new bride."

"With father, dear, we dwell at peace;
Our mothers are eleven.
Round every door there's room for more,
And we are sixty-seven."

And then I left in dumb dismay
The maid with eyes like heaven;
But as I left I heard her say,
"And I'm the oldest, by the way,
Of all the sixty-seven."

HOW TO PRONOUNCE HYOMEI

Osgood Brothers Tell of This Remarkable Treatment That Cures Catarrh Without Stomach Dosing.
"While all our customers who have used Hyomei agree that it is remarkably successful in curing catarrh and other diseases of the air passages," says Osgood Brothers, "yet there has been considerable diversity of opinion as to how the name is pronounced."
"Hyomei is pronounced just as if it were spelled 'high-me,' with the accent on the first syllable."
"It is nature's true cure for catarrhal troubles. It kills the germs of this disease, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and effectually drives all catarrhal poisons from the system."
"We have so much confidence in the value of the treatment, that we are selling it with the understanding that we will return the money if it fails to cure."
Osgood Brothers, 1178-1180 Broadway, New York, N. Y., know that we do exactly as we agree.

The Coronation of the Queen of May is but a few days off, Every California woman is a queen of May—and of every other month. Her regal attire must always be worthy of the occasion. It will be if it's attended to here.

Let's drop a few hints:

Millinery of Crowning Beauty

vicing in variety with the beautiful flower bed to which the sunshine and rain have given new life—that's what this newest of the Lace House departments is showing these days.

Some of this season's most magnificent pattern hats have been reduced one-third or more—and at the opening of the season, too.

A Visit to the Leather Section shows that the department teems with good values.

Very noticeable are the Suit Cases, suitable for lady or gentlemen's use. Strength is apparent in every detail. Heavy sheepskin and cowhide, with reinforced corners and backs, heavy brass mountings and secure fastenings tell of extra durability. 24-inch suit cases are priced $4.50, $5.00, $5.50 and up.

RESTAURANTEUR INSANE.

DENNETT, THE FAMOUS QUICK LUNCH MAN, IN HOSPITAL.

Strapped to a cot in the insane ward of the Receiving Hospital, Alfred W. Dennett lies a violent maniac.

At the breakfast hour this morning he attacked Warden Page, Steward Harry Borchert and Percy Jacobs, and before he could be subdued it took the combined efforts of the three men to hold him down. Steward Borchert's thumb was dislocated in the scuffle and he lost two handfuls of hair in attempting to free himself from Dennett, who had implanted both hands firmly in Borchert's locks. After the scuffle the room was a wreck. Exhausted with his exertions, Dennett was firmly strapped to a cot and the attendants had to sit down and rest themselves.

Just after Dennett had been subdued George S. Montgomery, adjutant-general of the Salvation Army, who has been connected with Dennett in business and philanthropic work, called to see him, but upon being informed of his condition did not attempt to talk with him. Some interesting facts in regard to Dennett's career as the founder of the widely-known restaurants which bear his name, however, Montgomery was willing to give to the world and also the cause of Dennett's falling. In this connection he said:

"Dennett has been an extraordinary man in his time. He is a man of affairs. He has had a mental grasp of things that few people equal. His business was one that was uncommonly successful. He was worth over $1,000,000 and was paying him hundreds of thousands. He has given away more money than few people ever see. He began his career in New York City and his Park Row restaurant there cost between $75,000 and $80,000 to furnish. I have been in his restaurant there and also in his Brooklyn house, which also cost a fortune to fix up. He had a peculiar ability in establishing and carrying on a rapid lunch business. From New York he extended his business to Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and other large cities. He made enormous sums and gave money lavishly for the help of the poor. I know of money he has given away that probably no one else knows anything about. And this was given away unostentatiously. He was interested in the Florence Crittenton Rescue Home and has given thousands towards its support. He used to feed thousands in New York City, where he would take food from his restaurants and give free lunches.

"You ask me what was the cause of his trouble. Among his friends we believe it is due to an accident that he met with in San Francisco about a year ago. He was living at the time on Fourth street, between Mission and Howard, and was going across the street when he was knocked down by a car. He is blind in one eye and was unable to see the car. The back of his head was hurt and while he gradually came around and seemingly was all right, he has been erratic since and in the last few months has been very bad. His son, George, who is now in Los Angeles, writes me that his father had wrecked his business there, which is known as Dennett's Rapid Lunch House, on Spring street, by his foolish acts. He jumbled up his business affairs and, although the restaurant had not been started very long, with the same ability that made him famous as a wizard in the upbuilding of the restaurant business, it was paying $1000 a month profit. But he gave away his money, hired people at cross purposes and did just such things as a crazy man would be expected to do. We believe that it all dates back to his injury and that he is now suffering from softening of the brain.

"When Dennett came to California he was virtually broke. He incorporated his Eastern restaurants and gave away so much money that he lost control of the corporation and was frozen out. He, however, could make money anywhere. He knew the business from first to last. With his one eye he could see a speck of dirt farther than any man I know of. Cleanliness was his motto. He paid the highest wages and demanded the best work. I bought out his restaurant in San Francisco but have sold it since myself. Now I am afraid that his career is at an end. He was a wonderful man in his line and his schemes were always on a large scale and were uniformly successful."

HEAVYWEIGHTS TO FIGHT TONIGHT.

JOHNSON AND McVEY MEET IN FISTIC ARENA WITH JOHNSON FAVORITE.

Tonight at Mechanics' Pavilion the two big heavyweights, Jack Johnson and Sam McVey, will meet in the ring to decide matters in a scheduled twenty-round contest, the card being held under the auspices of the Shasta Athletic Club. This is the third time the two colored men have met and Johnson has gained the decision in both contests. McVey is figuring this time that the tables will be turned and that he will defeat Johnson and then, as is the aim of both the men, will challenge Jeffries. It is thought that Jeff will not draw the color line, as he is always ready to take on a good man, who can show a record which will enable him to maintain the undisputed title of champion of the world. Men box before and who have followed them in their training and work-out, seem to take a different standard along this line, having made Johnson favorite in the betting. The first price quoted was 10 to 8 on Johnson, but on the eve of the fight the figures are 10 to 5. When the backers of the Oxnard "colored Sullivan" arrive there may be a change in the odds.

The colored boxers have not a measurement in common. Johnson is an inch and a half the taller while McVey has the advantage in reach by an inch. Johnson is built on the long, lean and lanky type while McVey is a thick-set, husky, strong man, with a fighter's face, and has a record of being one of the hardest men in the ring to knock out. McVey will go into the ring at 208 pounds and Johnson will weigh but 190, conceding the sixteen pounds to his adversary.

Johnson is remarkably quick, both in action and in foot work. Notwithstanding McVey's brute strength, he is not muscle bound, and it is claimed by his admirers that he is fully as speed as Johnson. But according to the betting he is lacking in some points and Johnson, considered to be one of the best

A TYPEWRITERS' UNION.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Stenographers and typewriters here are taking up in earnest the formation of a union. Two or three meetings already have been held and at the next one officers will be elected for "Local No. 1". About seventy young women and five men will be charter members. Organizers attached to the American Federation of Labor are interested in the movement. Some of the girls who attended the second meeting declared their chief object was to better their conditions and stop the flood of incompetent stenographers from various agencies.

There are about 45,000 stenographers, male and female, in New York and if they should become thoroughly organized they might play an important part in the conduct of business.

NOTED CHARACTER DEAD.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Francis Coleman, better known as "Colonel" and until ten years ago regarded as one of the shrewdest "confidence men" in the world, is dead in Bellevue Hospital from pneumonia. He was penniless, but friends raised a purse to bury him.

Coleman, who was highly educated, began to achieve notoriety 25 years ago when he followed a well-known circus. He became known as a most fastidious dresser and seldom wore the same suit of clothing more than a few days. In the early eighties he went to Europe, remained several years, and was accused of participating in many swindles, some of which netted $50,000.

PAYSHIGH TRIBUTE TO OUR ROADS.

ENGLISH OFFICIAL SAYS AMERICAN RAILWAYS ARE THE BEST

LONDON, April 22.—Neville Priestly, Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Railways Department, who was sent to the United States last summer to study and report on American railways, has submitted his report. It is an exhaustive review of the subject and, in conclusion, pays a high tribute to American railway enterprise and management.

"The railways of America," says Mr. Priestly, "are commercial undertakings on a gigantic scale and are operated under conditions which are to be found nowhere else in the world, since they receive no protection from the State, and have had to fight their way to the front by sheer ability of management. If I have appeared enthusiastic at times it is because I was greatly impressed by the courage with which the railroad officers have faced their difficulties and the pluck with which they overcome them. It is impossible to associate with the great men who have made their mark on American railways, I may say American national history without being infected with some of the enthusiasm they show for their business and no man can travel over their railway without becoming possessed of a great deal more knowledge than he previously had, or without getting many valuable hints. Many of their methods are different from those one has been brought up to believe the only correct method; and it is not until one realizes that the one idea in the mind of American railway men is 'get there' and that they do 'get there' by the shortest and quickest way, and do not allow themselves to be turned aside either by red tape, old-time prejudices, tradition, or any other of the bogies by which older countries are assailed, that one understands how the result have been obtained which one sees here. American railway men are quick to see a new idea; they are quicker still to try it; they take a great pride in their profession and are all striving to get at the science of it. That their methods are not always perfect is but what might have been expected; but they have managed to do what no other country in the world has done and, that is: Carry their goods traffic profitably at extraordinary low rates, notwithstanding the fact that they pay more for their labor than any other country. It is in the study of how they do this that much benefit can be derived by other countries; and if I have, in some degree, succeeded in throwing light on their methods, I shall feel that I have benefited others as well as myself by my visit to that great country where the courtesy of the people is only exceeded by their hospitality."

FIX SPECIAL RATES.

PORTLAND, Or., April 22.—The Transcontinental Passenger Association which is in session at Santa Barbara, Cal., dealt a severe blow at Oregon Day at the St. Louis fair when the dates of sale of excursion tickets was fixed. The dates were so fixed that people from Oregon and the Northwest who wished to attend the Oregon Day proceedings are practically barred from the advantages of special rates. The way in which they can get the benefits of the special rates is to go to the fair a month before Oregon Day and remain there during that time. The situation is this: The association in fixing the dates of sale for the special excursion tickets selected only three days a month. The dates decided upon in May are 11, 12 and 13. After the latter date there are no more dates of a sale until June 16. June 16 shall be Oregon Day at the fair and under the terms for the purchase of excursion tickets people of the Northwest will be obliged to go to St. Louis three weeks in advance of Oregon Day to obtain advantage of the reduced rates.

FREIGHT RATES INCREASED.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Owners of coastwise vessels and brokers acting for them have put into effect stringent regulations on the cost-carrying trade adopted by an association recently formed. Freight rates from ports between Norfolk, Va., and Maine have it is understood, been raised 10 and 15 cents a ton. Shippers generally are said to have acquiesced in this advance because of higher wages, but they are strongly opposing a demand from the vesselmen that all boats shall be unloaded inside of 10, 12 or 14 days, according to the size of the vessel.

ENGINEERS TO MEET.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—An international congress under the auspices of the American Society of Civil Engineers, has been announced for St. Louis, October 7 to 9. The International Pure Food Congress, to be held under the auspices of the National Association State Dairy and Food Departments has been announced for the week of September 28.

TRADE REPORTS OF THE WEEK.

TRADE IS PROSPEROUS WITH THE GENERAL OUTLOOK FOR A GOOD HARVEST.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The International Mercantile Agency indicates continued prosperity of general trade notwithstanding continued setbacks due to unseasonable weather. Conditions in the South are particularly satisfactory. Jobbers reporting excellent sales with orders considerably in excess of a year ago. This improvement is noteworthy in dry goods where spring business is promising.

Conditions in and about St. Louis are especially favorable and continue to reflect the exposition demand, which is contributing great activity to varied lines. Excellent spring trade is noted in hats, caps, boots, shoes, clothing and kindred branches.

The outlook for iron and steel is not as bright as it was a week ago owing to depression existing in some lines. Failure of the United States Steel Corporation to exercise its option on pig iron has had a depressing effect on that market. In billets the demand is good for early work, few contracts being made for business delivered later than July 1. In finished products prices hold firm. The market in general, however, rests on a solid basis, but affords little promise of thorough spring revival until railroad buying begins.

Seeding throughout the Northwest is a fortnight late, but actual work is now well under way.

Merchants generally are prosperous, making little complaint concerning the backward spring. The outlook for general trade in this section is very encouraging.

In Canada the incident of chief importance has been the Toronto fire. The property loss, although estimated at $10,000,000 is not likely to reach that figure. Railroads are becoming gradually relieved of embarrassments incident to winter blockades and earnings in consequence are improving. The woolen industry is somewhat depressed owing to the preferential tariff. The largest plant in the dominion was offered for sale this week.

STREET WORK IS CONSIDERED.

COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL ACTS ON PETITIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

The Street Committee of the City Council last night acted on many matters pertaining to improvements.

The petition of James Schilling and others for a sidewalk on Thirty-sixth street, from Telegraph avenue to Grove street, was laid over by the committee.

A resolution directing the City Engineer to prepare plans for improving Telegraph and Shattuck avenues, from Fifty-seventh to Fifty-ninth streets, was recommended.

The proposal of Michael Murphy for sewerage Sixty-sixth street at cost not to exceed $456.89 was recommended to the Council.

It was recommended that John Geary be given the contract of sewerage Sixteenth street, from Fourteenth to Sixteenth avenues, at a cost not to exceed $484.99.

City Attorney McElroy reported that in his opinion it did not lay within the power of the Council to impose upon contractors the payment of fees to inspectors appointed to supervise the construction of sewers or other street work where an extension of time was asked for.

CLUB MAKES SUGGESTIONS.

The suggestion made by the Independent Square District Improvement Club that contractors who do street work be required to make a deposit of $100 with the Board of Works was laid over.

The request of the same club for a cement sidewalk on Twentieth avenue, between East Twelfth and East Fourteenth streets, was recommended to the Council.

The request for a sidewalk on East Fourteenth street, from Thirteenth to Fifteenth avenues, was also passed on favorably.

The petition of C. J. Nissen for a grade on Center street, from A street to B street, was laid over to permit more signatures being obtained.

HARDY'S PETITION.

The petition of Lowell Hardy for the construction of a sidewalk on East Twenty-fourth street, from Eleventh avenue to Thirteenth avenue, was passed on favorably by the committee, which recommended that twenty days' notice of intention be given.

The petition of the Hutchinson Company to grade curb and macadamize Sherman street was laid over.

It was recommended that a resolution of intention of sewerage Seventh street, from Grove street to a point 100 feet west, be passed by the Council.

The petition to grade curb and macadamize Spring street was favorably passed on, with the provision that all the street work be done.

The petition of the Ransome Construction Company to be granted ninety days' extension of time to sewer Alameda street was applied.

The petition to improve Moss avenue, between Fairmont and Piedmont avenues, was laid over pending the construction of a sewer.

The petition to sidewalk the north side of Seventh street between Campbell and Perilla streets, was laid over.

GROVE STREET SEWER.

The application of A. V. Cavazos for a sewer in Thirty-eighth street, from Franklin to Thirtieth streets, was recommended.

A communication from the Southern Pacific Company dedicating Stanford avenue to the City of Oakland was filed.

The protest of J. J. Keller against allowing a right of Monte Vista avenue, from Piedmont to Fairmont avenues, was filed.

The resolution recommending that the City Engineer prepare plans and specifications for improving Broadway, from Forty-first street north, was adopted.

It was recommended that the resolution adopting plans for sewerage East Fourteenth street and Twenty-second avenue be adopted.

ANOTHER SUBWAY FOR NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Work will probably be started on another rapid transit subway in Manhattan before the end of this year. The plan and scope committee of the Rapid Transit Commission has decided to report next week in favor of a new subway and incorporated its views as to the proper route.

It is said to be likely that the committee will report in favor of the route proposed by the Metropolitan Street Railway interests. This starts at Third avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, where seven of the company's surface lines converge, extends under the Harlem river to Lexington avenue, extends down that thoroughfare past the Grand Central station to Fifteenth street, along Fifteenth street, passing under the present subway at Union Square, under Broadway to Chambers street, along Chambers street to William street, passing under the existing subway and the proposed bridge loop, along William street to Hanover Square and thence to the Battery.

The company proposes to round the Battery with a loop and continue the line back northward in Eighth avenue to Thirty-fourth street, thence east to a junction with the main line.

About $20,000,000 will be involved in the second system of underground lines.

SENATOR 'ROBBED' IN HIS SALOON.

CHICAGO, April 22.—State Senator Michael J. Butler, with his bartender and two friends has fallen a victim to a lone hold-up man, who left the Senator's saloon with $200 in cash and jewelry valued at $400.

The robber, apparently 28 years old, and unmarked, walked in while the bartender, Albert Manley, was counting the day's receipts, most of the money being on the bar. The intruder ordered a drink and when Manley placed the glass on the bar the man suddenly drew two revolvers and cried, "Hands up!"

Senator Butler and the two men with whom he was conversing were in front of the bar and all obeyed the robber's commands. The bartender was ordered from behind the bar and all were told to stand against the wall. The robber then took the money the bartender had been counting, looked in the cash register for more, and searched the men, securing a diamond ring and two diamond stick pins. The police say the diamond ring was taken from Senator Butler. The robber ran from the saloon, boarded an elevated train and escaped.

SPRING AND SUMMER SHOWERS.

All Nature Points the Way.

The showers that bring forth blossoms and make nature more beautiful often cause untold misery to mankind in whose blood the poisons of the past winter have accumulated. When all nature seems to be glad, we sometimes experience our greatest ills. The important thing is to make this life worth while—consider each disappointment and ill feeling as so much experience and as a temporary lesson set for us to learn. When you catch cold—suffer from indigestion or notice the skin breaking out with pimples let this furnish you a warning that the blood is in disorder, and by the experience of others and quickly drive the poisons from the blood and build up the system with a reliable remedy—such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which has stood the test of time and for over a third of a century has sold more largely than any other blood remedy. Thousands attest its remedial value as witnessed by the testimonials which have been published for the past thirty-five years.

COMMON SENSE.

No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having that evil malnutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. Tonics consisting of large portions of alcohol, iron or cod liver oil do not bring the desired changes in the blood, because they do not enter the system and are not absorbed into the blood, with the exception of the alcohol, which shrivels up the red blood corpuscles when it does come in contact with them. We know this because it contains no alcohol, and offers a reasonable and scientific method of treating the blood, by improving the nutritive functions of the patient. The "Golden Medical Discovery" accomplishes this, by first restoring the enfeebled digestive organs, so that food, the natural tissue builder, will be digested and assimilated. For this reason, generally present in these cases, loss of appetite and lack of sufficient nourishment to replenish the waste of flesh.

ORDINANCES ARE PASSED ON.

COUNCIL COMMITTEE PASSES ON VARIOUS MEASURES OF IMPORTANCE.

The Ordinance and Judiciary Committee of the City Council met last night and passed on various ordinances before it.

The ordinance relating to the construction of theatres was laid over until next Thursday evening at which time the committee of the whole will take it up.

The ordinance re-establishing the limit so as to extend the zone 150 feet east of Franklin street was adopted by the Council.

MEASLES ORDINANCE.

The ordinance making measles a reportable disease was also recommended.

The offer of the Oakland Transit Consolidated to surrender its franchise on Twenty-second and Adeline streets was recommended to the Council for acceptance.

It was recommended by the committee that the deeds of the Harrison street property owners, dedicating the street to the city be accepted. The ordinance accepting the deeds was recommended to be printed.

NEW FIRE LIMITS.

The committee recommended that the ordinance re-establishing fire limits so as to extend the zone 150 feet east of Franklin street be adopted by the Council.

RHEUMATISM

JOINTS AND MUSCLES SWOLLEN AND STIFF

A disease so painful and far-reaching in its effects upon the human system as Rheumatism, must have a deep and well-laid foundation. It originates and develops in the blood, and, like other diseases of the blood, is frequently inherited. The poisonous acids with which the blood is charged circulate through the system, breaking down the health, irritating the nerves, settling in joints and muscles, and causing the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to Rheumatism. Unless the blood is purified, joints and muscles become coated with the acid matter and are rendered stiff and sore, and the nerves completely wrecked.

Rheumatism, being a constitutional blood disease, requires internal treatment. Liniments, plasters and such things as are applied outwardly, give only temporary relief. S. S. S. is the recognized greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, and in no disease does it act so promptly and beneficially as Rheumatism, neutralizing the acids and restoring the blood to a pure, healthy condition and invigorating and toning up the nerves and all parts of the system. It is guaranteed strictly vegetable. Write us should you desire medical advice, which will cost you nothing.

I had a severe attack of Rheumatism, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicine every day, and at last they gave me S. S. S. and it began to help me. Finally I left of their medicine and began the use of S. S. S. My knees and elbows were so swollen and painful, I was getting discouraged when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me, continued, and to-day am sound, well and happy.

"Coffee-Heart"

40,000 members of the Commercial Travellers' Accident Association, carry cards on which are printed "Medical and Surgical Helps," by the Surgeon-in-Chief of the Association, paragraph 4 of which says:

"FOR VERTIGO OR DIZZINESS—Please remember that Coffee often produces it; therefore, when you have congestion of the head, skin is yellow, or you feel heavy about the heart—stop using Coffee."

Insurance Companies now refuse policies for "Coffee-heart" just as they do for Consumption, Apoplexy or Morphine habit.

Because, with most people, Coffee weakens the Heart, inflames the Spinal Cord, and arrests the digestion of food.

"Postum" Food Coffee while correcting "Coffee-heart" rebuilds Brain and Nerve Tissue up to their normal condition, causing them to feel as good all day as Coffee makes them feel for a few minutes in the day just after drinking it.

"Postum" is made from the outer coats of Wheat, which are rich in Phosphate of Potash, the readiest Brain and Nerve food that Nature has provided.

These outer coats (being sifted from Flour in the milling) cannot, in daily Bread, make good the ravages of Coffee.

But when, in Postum, they are boiled for 15 minutes, the Phosphates are freely extracted from the Wheat fibres, just as soup is extracted from tough meat or bone, ready for prompt assimilation.

It is easy to switch from Coffee, because "Postum" has the delicious flavor and rich aroma, of fine old Government Java.

A ten days' trial shows wonderful results.

USES FIST IN LOVE.

The charge of battery preferred against Samuel Whesley, a subconductor at South and Chester streets, by Miss S. S. Dickerson of 525 Center street, was dismissed on motion of the prosecution this morning. It appears that the inter-locked parties are sweethearts and that Whesley took occasion to show his affection by nearly spearing the beauty of his fiancée by a horny-handed fist planted in her rear. On promising to bring forth conduct his love-making in a more mild manner, Miss Dickerson relented and a bond that the case be dismissed.

According to the story told by Miss Dickerson to the Prosecuting Attorney, and came here from the East to marry Whesley. She says that she was barely prepared for the violent form of love-making that her Western sweetheart favored her with, but now that she has gotten acquainted she is ready to take notice.

Miss Dickerson would be considered by many to be a very handsome woman.

S. S. LINE'S RESERVE.

LIVERPOOL, April 22.—Frederick Leyland & Company, Limited, the first British line purchased by J. Pierpont Morgan when forming the shipping combine, issued a report today for the thirteen months ending with December. The directors say that even after drawing $1,250,000 from the reserve, it is only possible to pay the preferred dividend for six months. This withdrawal reduces the reserve to $2,500,000. The directors attribute this result to the epidemic of foot and mouth disease in New England last year, stopping shipments therefrom, and to the inadequacy of Atlantic freights.

STRIKERS HOLDING OUT.
